

The Burlington Hawk Eye, Friday 11 February 2011

Deborah C. Casady, 59, of Burlington died at 12:15 a.m. Thursday, Feb. 10, 2011, at Great River Hospice House in West Burlington.

Born Dec. 27, 1951, in Burlington, she was the daughter of Lloyd "Augie" and Mary Katherine Willson McCannon and her stepfather, Ray Beggs.

Ms. Casady was a homemaker, worked several years at Print'n Place and worked several places as a bartender. She graduated from Burlington High School in 1970. She was a member of Moose and Eagles ladies auxiliaries. She was a Cubs and Iowa Hawkeye fan. She enjoyed playing pool and darts.

Survivors include two daughters, Melissa Yeager and Melinda Belville, both of Burlington; her mother, Mary Beggs of Burlington; three grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; five brothers, Kevin McCannon, Dennis Beggs, Rickey Beggs, Marc Beggs and Christopher Beggs, all of Burlington; two sisters, Cindy Robinson of Rockton, Ill., and Linda Ballard of Benton Harbor, Mich.; nieces and nephews. She was preceded in death by her father, her stepfather and her grandparents.

Visitation will be from 1 to 3 p.m. Sunday at Hass-Thielen Funeral Home in Burlington, where family will receive friends. The funeral for Ms. Casady will be at 3 p.m. Sunday at Hass-Thielen Funeral Home, with Pat Reid officiating. A time of food and fellowship will be at Hass-Thielen community room following the funeral. The body will be cremated following the funeral. Burial will be in Aspen Grove Cemetery in Burlington at a later date.

A memorial has been established.